

Smart Investments for Oregon's Seniors and People with Disabilities

Oregon Project Independence Pilot: Serving People with Disabilities

What is it? Oregon Project Independence (OPI) is an innovative, effective strategy to help reduce costs in Oregon's system of long-term services and supports. OPI provides a small amount of help to an individual who is at risk for premature or unnecessary placement in a more restrictive care setting and/or entering the Medicaid system. OPI was the first program of its kind in the nation to provide a safety net for people who could be diverted from Medicaid services and premature entry into restrictive and more costly care settings.

OPI serves a client at approximately $300-$350 per month, a dramatic cost savings compared to Medicaid services. To be eligible for OPI, one cannot currently be a Medicaid client or an Oregon Health Plan member. Currently, Medicaid long-term care clients also receive medical care through the Oregon Health Plan. OPI is designed to focus on prevention and intervention to help individuals remain independent and in their own home safely, at a significant cost savings for state and federal budgets.

In 2005, the Oregon Legislature opened the door to expanding this highly successful program to people with physical disabilities. However, these services have been unable to begin to this point.

What is the investment? Oregon's Legislature invested $3 million to initiate a pilot project to serve people with disabilities through Oregon Project Independence. This investment is supporting health, safety and independence through the effective and efficient OPI program for people with disabilities. This investment means we are taking proactive and cost effective steps to improve health, quality of life and lower costs for state and federal budgets.

What has happened? As of September 2014, over 200 individuals with disabilities are now a part of the Pilot, currently operating in six areas of the state. The pilot began in July 2014. It is the goal of the pilot to serve 300 individuals over a biennium.

- Over 75% of individuals in the pilot are at an income level less than $1500 per month
- Over 90% are at an income level less than $2000 per month
- Over 80% of individuals in the pilot are at risk for out of home placement
- Over 50% of individuals served are at a service priority level that would qualify for Medicaid

What's next? It is expected that this pilot can serve 300 clients over a biennium. The Pilot is closely monitoring outcomes and pilot progress to report to the 2015 Legislature. It is critical to continue this project through the 2015-17 biennium. Continuing this project will allow further gathering of outcome data, maximize the number of individuals served and help create a plan for Oregon Project Independence to move towards being age-neutral in future biennia – an important cost deterrent strategy. This investment will continue to increase the independence, dignity, safety and quality of life for seniors and people with disabilities.
